The lively ant Nemnema loved to take a walk every day down Flower Street on her way to work. The street was full of flowers.

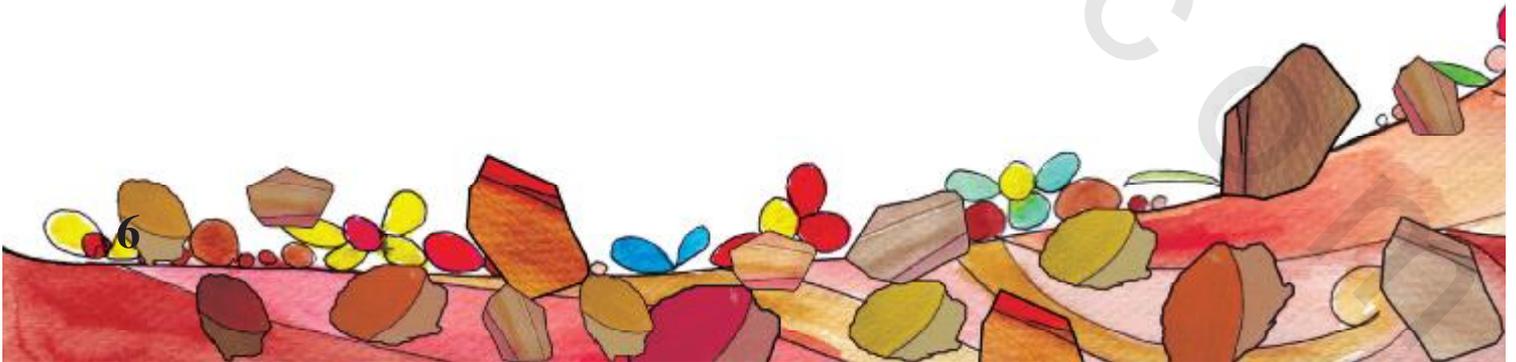

One day on her way
back home from work,
she saw a huge yellow
monster standing in the middle of the road.

The ant knew
from the wise
parrot that this
yellow monster
was called Bulldozer.

The yellow monster left and went away.
Nemnema wanted to go back home but she found a big hole in the place of Flower Street.

and right and she found no way out
except by passing
through the hole.

Nemnema got used
to walking inside
the hole every day
on her way home.

After several days,
Nemnema got tired and took a
rest in the hole.
She started crying
over what happened to the
pretty Flower Street.

The wise parrot landed next to Nemnema while she was crying. He told her not to cry any more and try to think what to do.

Nemnema went to her neighbours asking for help.

Miss Sparrow said:

“I have no problem
here. I can just fly over the hole and
I don’t need to walk inside it.”

The wise parrot said: “As you see, I am quite old and I can’t do anything to help.”

Miss Lazy Ant added: “The problem needs a long time to be solved and I advise you to accept the present situation.”

Sonfor, the mouse, was angry and he said: “Are we going to sit back and leave Nemnema alone without helping her?”

He added :“I am going to do all
what she asks
me to do.”

Nemnema agreed with Sonfor to
place a small stone
in the hole at the end of each day.

While Nemnema was at work, she heard Miss Lazy Ant sobbing.

The yellow monster
had crushed her
house.

Nemnema and Sonfor decided to
help Miss Lazy Ant
rebuild her house.

The wise parrot convinced all the rest of the other animals to help
Miss Lazy Ant
as Sonfor and Nemnema
did.

After the animals finished rebuilding Miss Lazy Ant's house, they decided to help Nemnema restore Flower Street
the way it was.

After a few days, all the animals finished their work. Nemnema was happy to see the flowers on both sides of the street just like old times.

The animals made a big party to celebrate their achievement. Nemnema and Sonfor got special prizes.

Nemnema thanked her friends and said she was waiting for the next
adventure
with the yellow
monster!
