

CONTENTS

Foreword	v
Translator's Note	x
Author's Preface to the Second Edition	xiii

CHAPTER ONE

THE STATUS OF THE SUNNAH IN ISLAM

General characteristics of the Sunnah	1
A comprehensive pattern	2
A balanced method	2
An integrative way	4
A realistic method	6
A way made easy	8
The Muslims' duty to the Sunnah	10
Warning against three evils	12
Principles for the application of the Sunnah	18
1: Verifying the firmness of the Sunnah	18
2: Proficiency in understanding the Sunnah	19
3: The text safe from contradiction by what is stronger	20
The source of both legislation and guidance	21
A defence of fabricated hadiths refuted	23
Rejection of the ṣaḥīḥ equal to acceptance of the fabricated	25
The doubts of the old enemies of the Sunnah	26
The doubts of new enemies of the Sunnah	28
Being content with the guidance of the Qur'an	29
Rejection of hadiths because of miscomprehension	30

CHAPTER TWO

THE SUNNAH AS A SOURCE FOR JURISPRUDENCE AND PREACHING

In jurisprudence and legislation	41
All jurists refer to the sunnah	45
The necessity of linking hadith and fiqh	46
The duty of scholarly revision of the legacy of fiqh	51
In preaching and guidance	54
Preparation before presenting a hadith as evidence	62
The defects of many admonishers	63
The fatwa of Ibn Ḥajar al-Haythamī	65
Narrating weak hadiths in targhīb and tarhīb	66

Some important realities	70
1: Rejection of weak hadiths even on targhīb and tarhīb	70
2: Non-adherence to the conditions of the majority	72
3: Prohibition of narrating in a style of certainty	72
4: The sufficiency of the ṣaḥīḥ and the ḥasan	73
5: Warning against unbalancing order among the deeds	74
6: A weak hadith cannot itself establish an injunction	75
7: Two complementary conditions for weak hadith	79
A wise preacher does not transmit what is unclear to people	82
Hadith: that every age is worse than what preceded it	84

CHAPTER THREE

PRINCIPLES FOR CORRECT UNDERSTANDING OF THE SUNNAH

Understanding in the light of the Qur'an	91
Preferring what is in the light of the Qur'an	92
Care in claiming contradiction of the Qur'an	99
Gathering relevant hadiths on a subject together	103
Hadith: wearing the iḏār long	103
The hadith in al-Bukhārī on the censure of tillage	109
Reconciling differing hadiths or preference between them	113
Reconciling has priority over preference	113
Hadiths on women visiting the graves	115
Hadiths on al-ʿaḏl (coitus interruptus)	117
Abrogation in the hadith	121
Understanding causes, associations, and objectives	124
Hadith: “You know better the affairs of your worldly life”	126
Hadith: “I am quit of any Muslim”	127
The woman’s traveling with a mahram	129
The leaders are from the Quraysh	130
The method of the Companions and Successors	130
Texts based on a usage that changed later	132
Distinguishing changeable means and stable ends	139
“The weight of Makkah” and “the measure of Madinah”	144
Sighting the crescent to establish the month	145
Distinguishing between literal and figurative	155
The figurative in hadiths conveying injunctions	163
The danger of closing the door to the figurative	166
Against latitude in leaving the literal meaning	169
Ibn Taymiyyah’s rejection of the figurative	172

Distinguishing the Unseen and the Visible	173
Adopting the lexical meanings of the words	179
Caution against reading current terms into old texts	179
Two words: taṣwīr and naḥt	181
Precaution in commenting on individual words or sentences	182
EPILOGUE	184
NOTES	187
INDEX	205