

LIST OF TABLES

Table		Page
(1)	Distribution of isolated intestinal parasites according to their type.	18
(2)	Distribution of studied children according to their socio-demographic characteristics and the intestinal parasitic infestations.	19
(3)	Distribution of studied children according to the presence of intestinal parasitic infestations and the socio-economic characteristics of their parents.	21
(4)	Distribution of studied children according to the presence of intestinal parasitic infestations and their housing condition.	23
(5)	Distribution of studied children according to the presence of intestinal parasitic infestations and hygienic practices of them and their families.	25
(6)	Distribution of the studied children according to presence of intestinal parasitic infestations and presence of related clinical manifestations.	27
(7)	Distribution of studied children according to the presence of intestinal parasitic infestations and their BMI and hemoglobin level.	28

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure		Page
(1)	Ascaris worm may reach 16 inches in length as shown.	2
(2)	Segment of T. solium	2
(3)	Segment of T. saginata	2
(4)	Fasciola hepatica	3
(5)	Giardia cyst.....	3
(6)	Location of Sidi-krir family health unit and area served by the unit.....	11
(7)	Estimated prevalence of intestinal parasitic infestation.	17