

The World of Tales

Smart Sawsan

By

Salama Mohamed Salama

Illustrated by

Abdul Mordy Ebeid

Translated by

Dr. Mohamed Saeed Tewfik

Safeer. All rights reserved

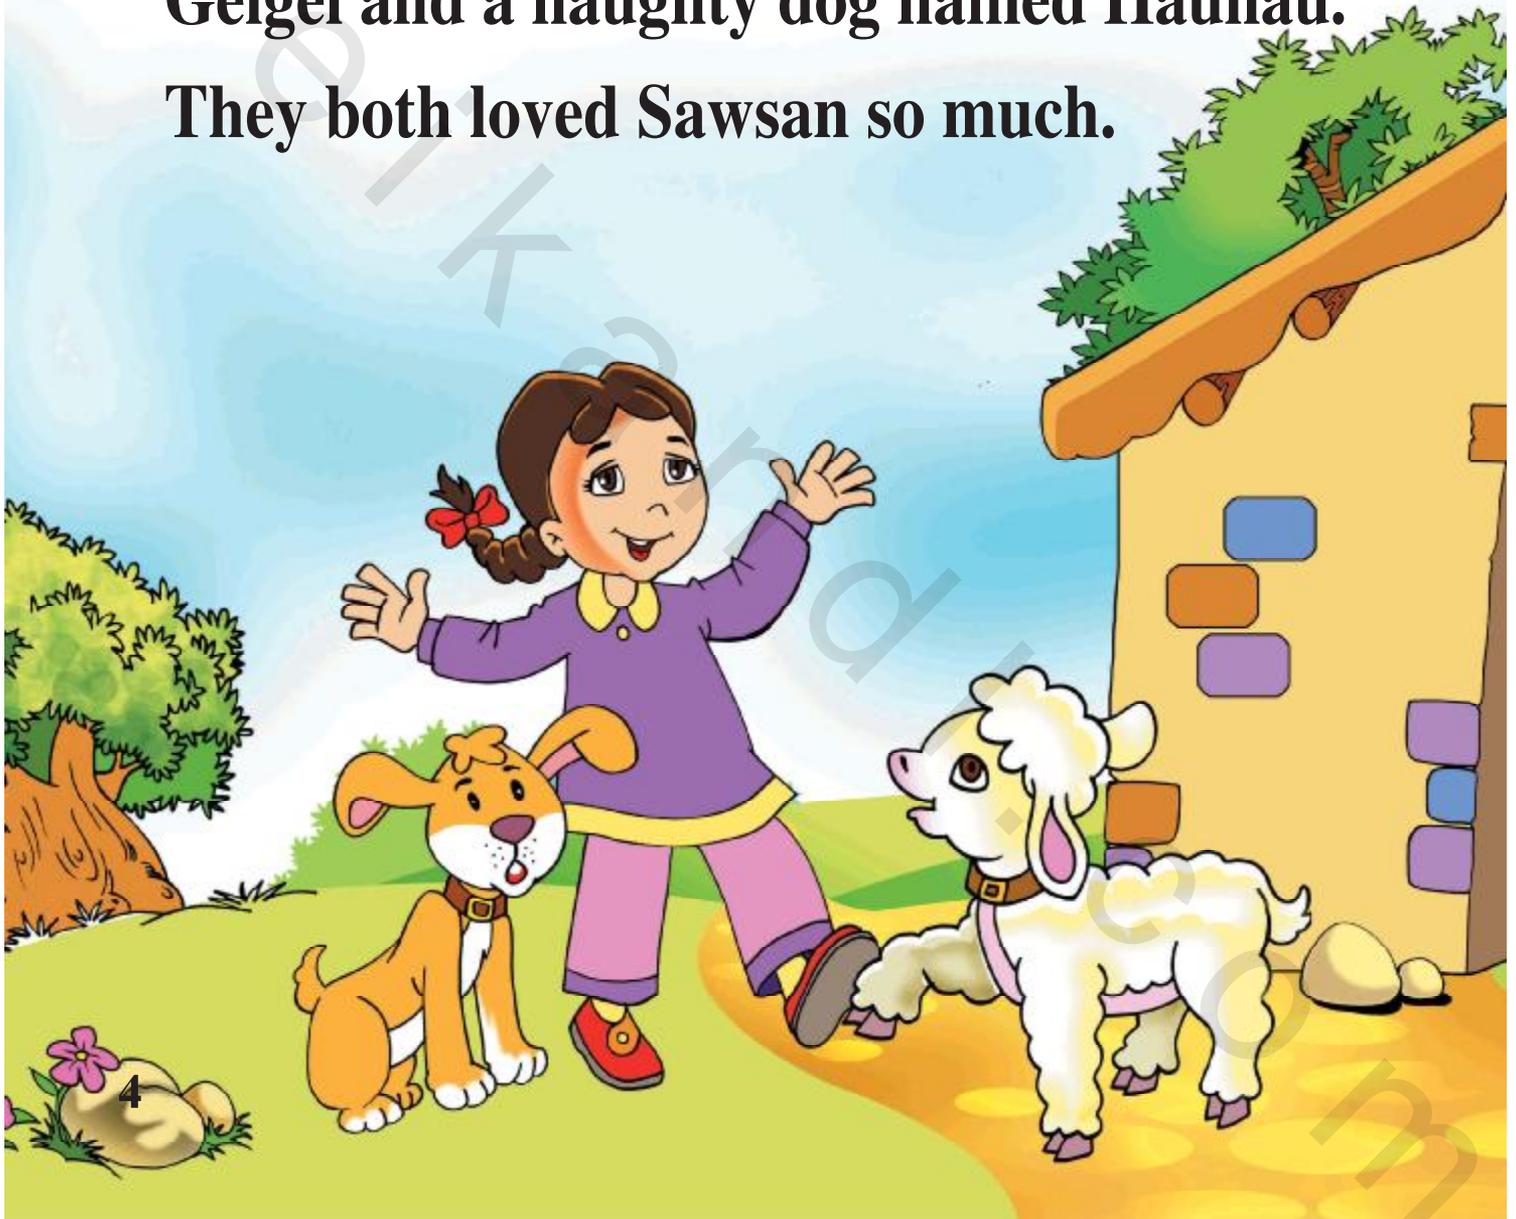

Deposition No : 14772 / 2008

ISBN 977 - 361 - 652 - 5

Sawsan is a smart little girl living with her family in a pretty village house. The house is beside a small pond.

With her lived a cute little sheep called Gelgel and a naughty dog named Hauhau.
They both loved Sawsan so much.

Hauhau was always chasing Gelgel who in return had to defend itself and butt Hauhau.

Sawsan would always intervene to stop their fights while Gelgel and Hauhau would always obey her at once.

One day Sawsan's father asked her to ride the boat and feed the cow living at the other side of the pond.

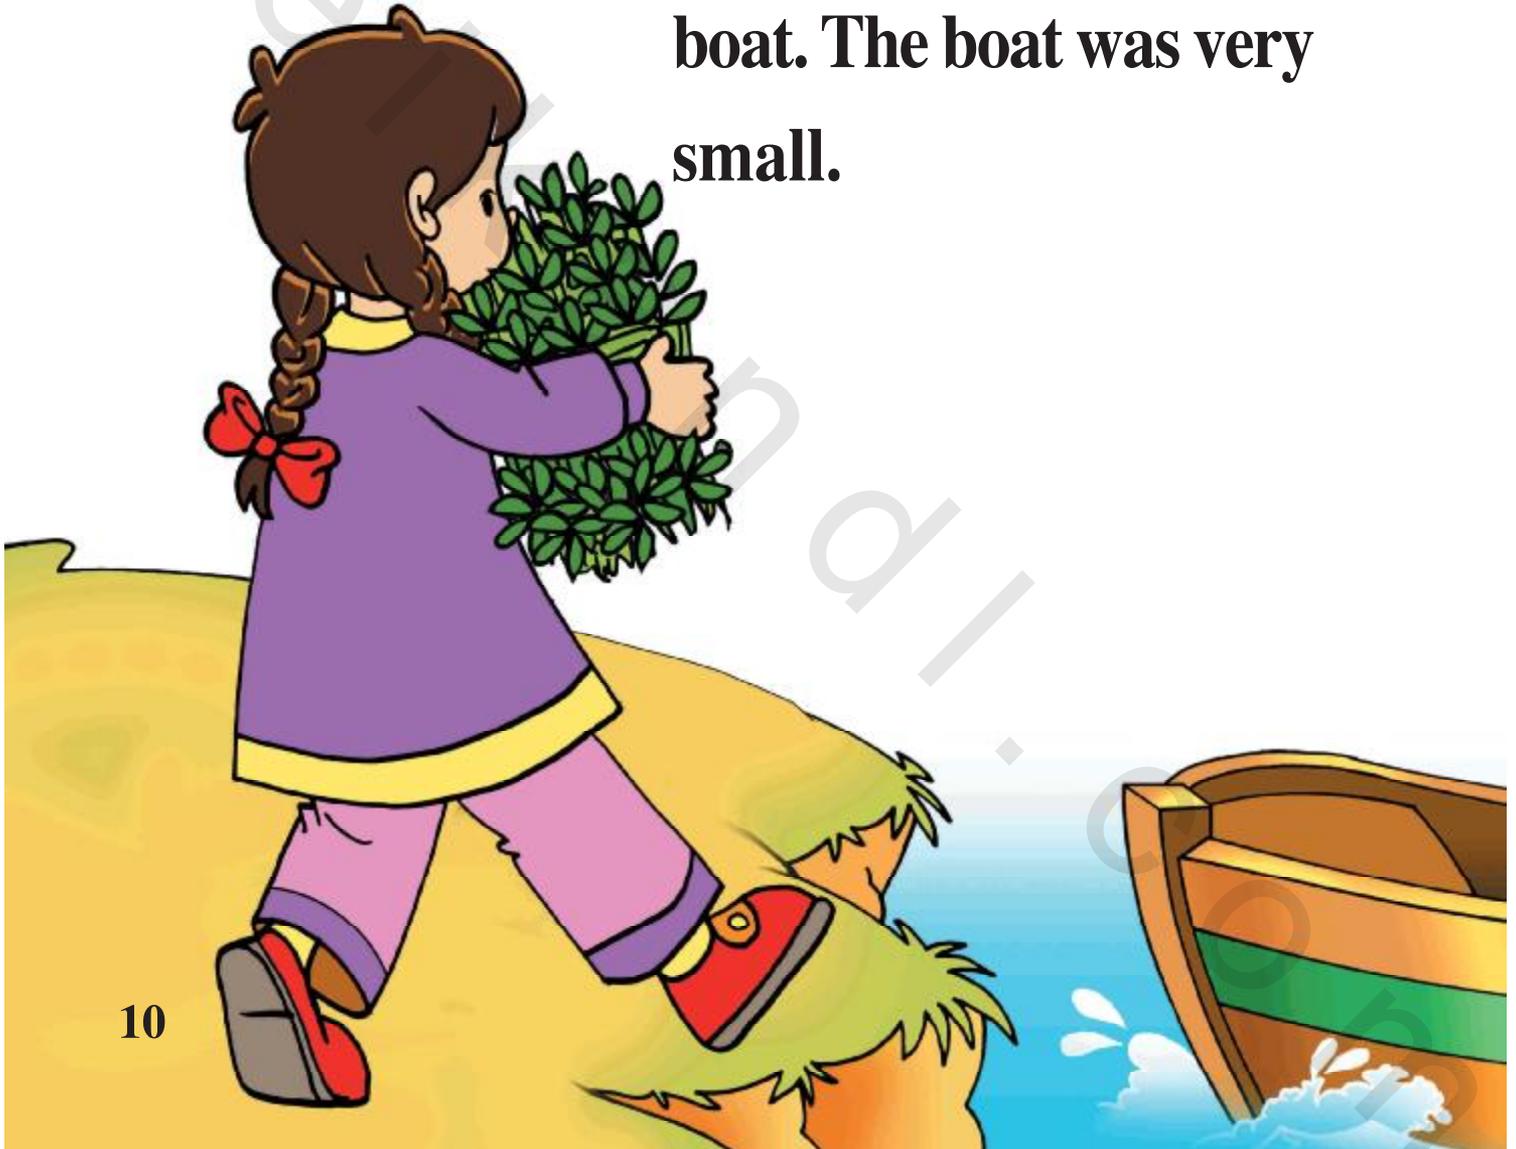

Sawsan's father seriously told her to take only thing with her in the boat.

It was the first time her father asked her to do something like that! Sawsan felt that her father was trying to teach her something important.

Sawsan carried the clover, and went to the boat. The boat was very small.

Suddenly, Gelgel jumped into the boat followed by Hauhau.

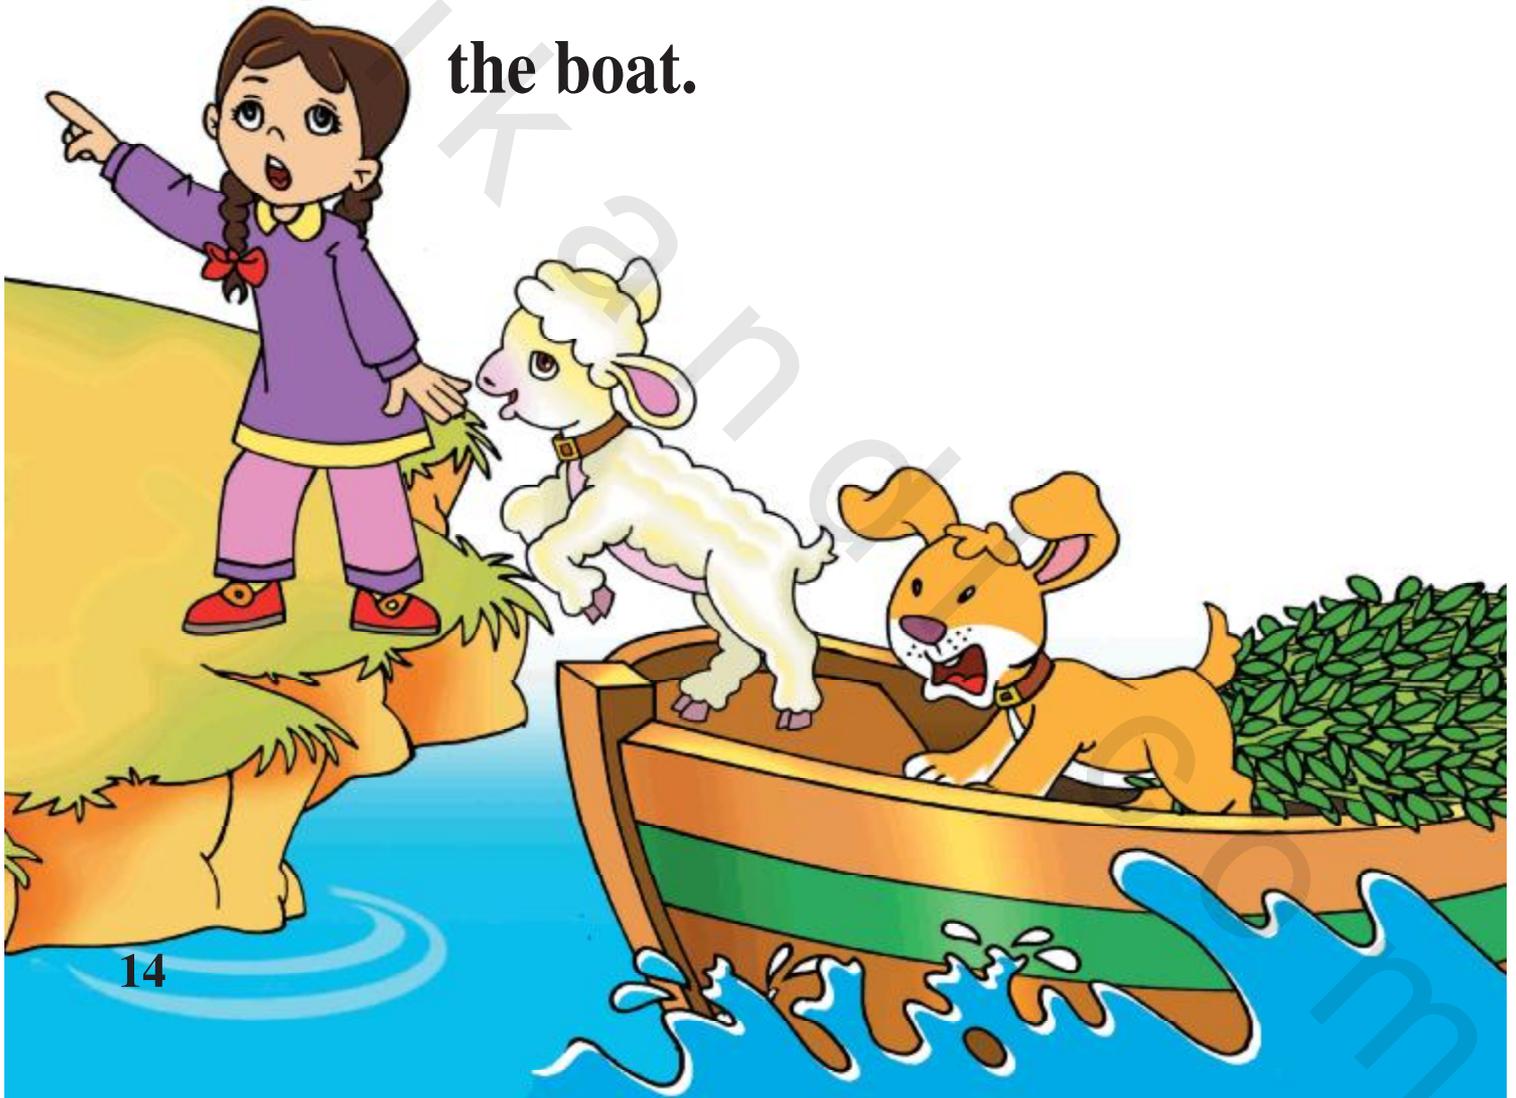

The little boat started to shake a lot and swayed from side to side.

Sawsan quickly remembered her father's words "Don't carry more than one thing in the boat!"

Immediately, she ordered Gelgel and Hauhau to leave the boat.

Sawsan said to herself “Gelgel and Hauhau love me a lot and they won’t leave me alone and if I leave them together they will start fighting, what shall I do?”

Yes! I know a good solution to this problem!”

Sawsan carried Gelgel to the boat and crossed over to the other side of the pond leaving the clover behind.

Hauhau doesn't eat clover so the cow's food was safe.

Sawsan returned in the boat and carried Hauhau to the other side and took Gelgel back with her in the boat so that Hauhau wouldn't be left behind with Gelgel and start fighting as usual.

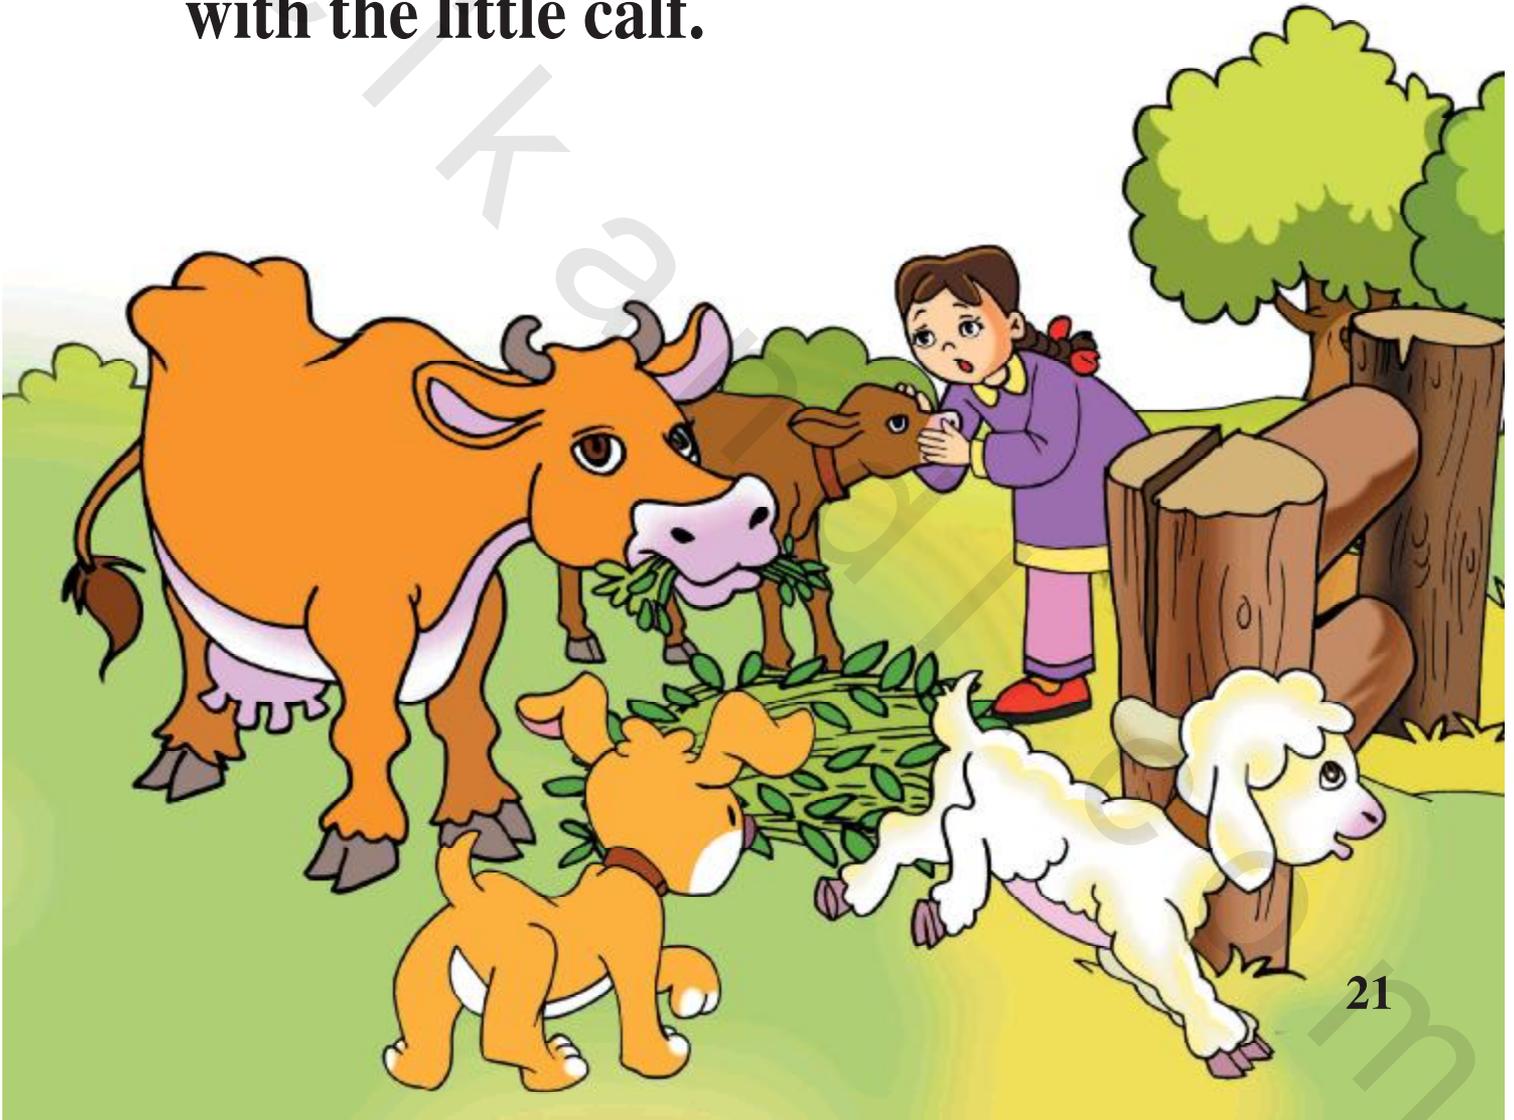

When she reached there with Gelgel, she took the clover to the other side in her boat and left it next to Hauhau who was waiting for her. Sawsan felt at ease because Hauhau does not eat clover.

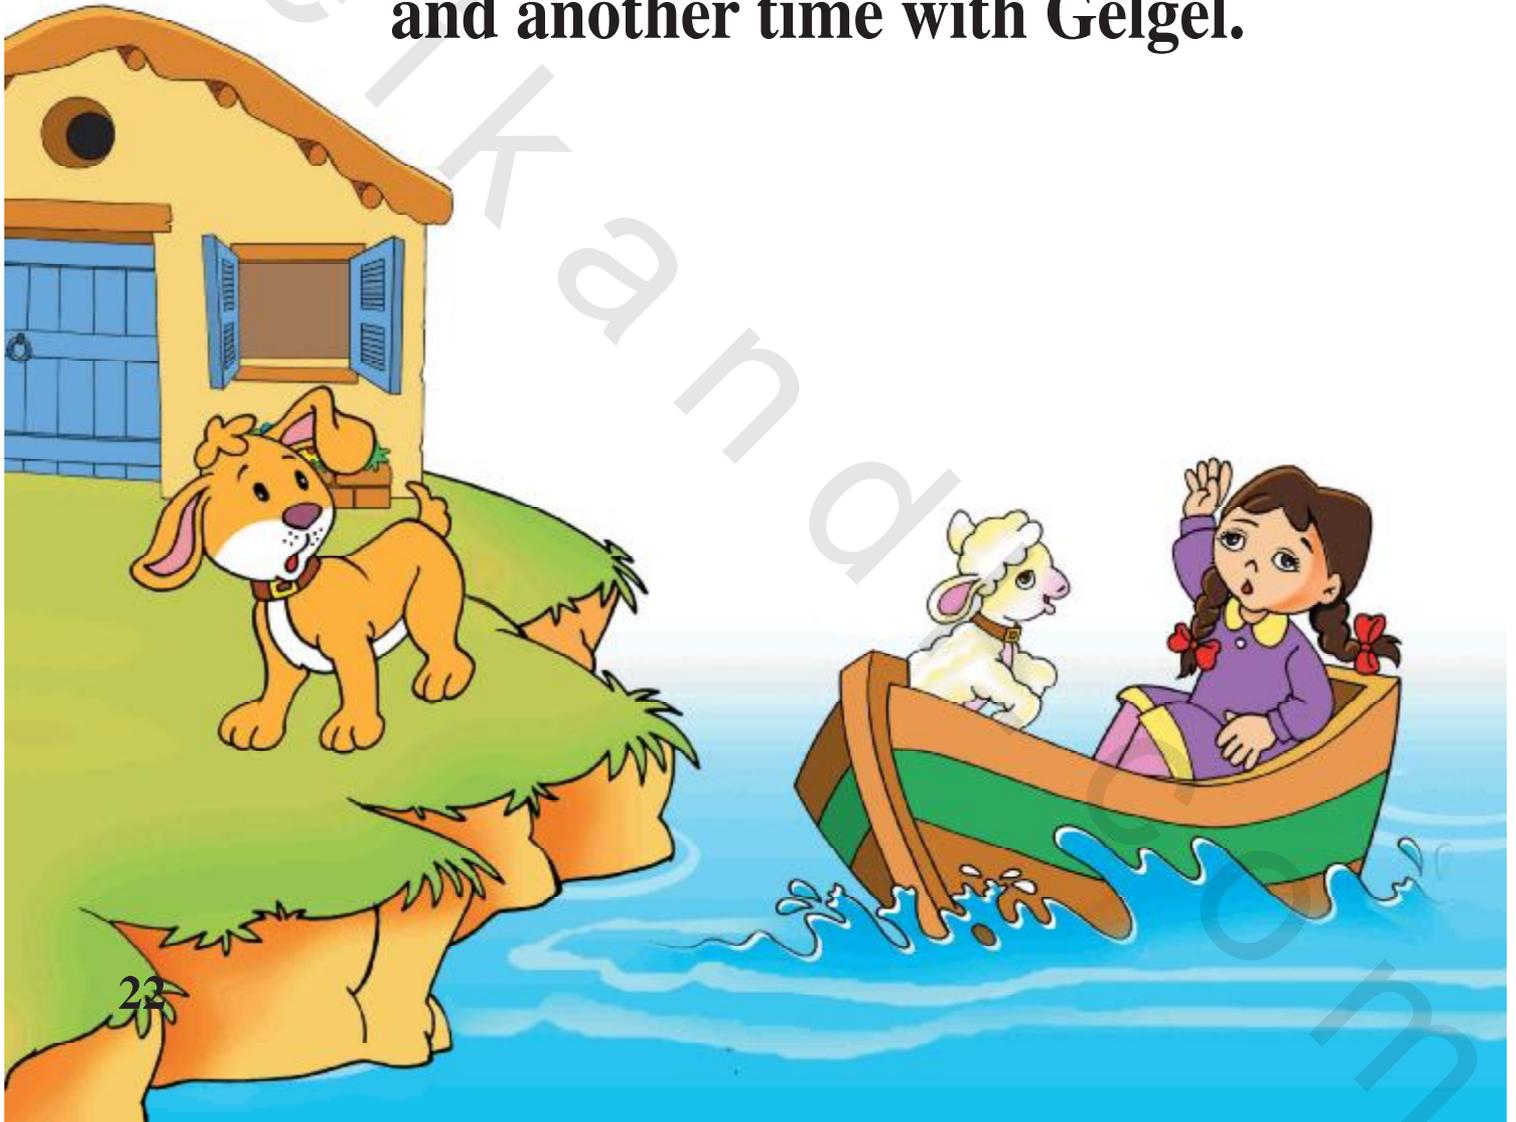

Once again, she came back to pick up lonely and sad Gelgel.
Thus, she smartly solved the problem.

Sawsan fed her cow and she was happy. She started playing joyfully with the little calf.

It was quite easy for her to return in the boat, first with Hauhau and another time with Gelgel.

When her father knew about what happened, he was so pleased at the way his daughter handled the problem and bought her a nice gift.

Next day, Sawsan was waiting for her next new task.

