The good pharaoh Akhenaton

Queen Nefertiti

Akhenaton's beautiful wife. She has a strong character, and likes to help and support her husband.

Takes care of her 6 daughters.

Priest Mery-Ra

The king's deputy and his trusted right hand.

Always wearing the priesthood traditional costume which is the panther skin.

Nehsy, the chief of guards

His name means "nubian"; well known for his courageous, intelligent and loyal character. Trustee on political and military secrets.

Kemet

Black smart cat, like the fertile black land of Egypt.
Curious to learn everything and makes the good deeds in life. Known for his sense of humour.

Miaow

White adventurous cat. Together with her friend
Kemet they try to stop any wrong or evil doings, especially from Set.
She likes studying Egyptian history.

Set

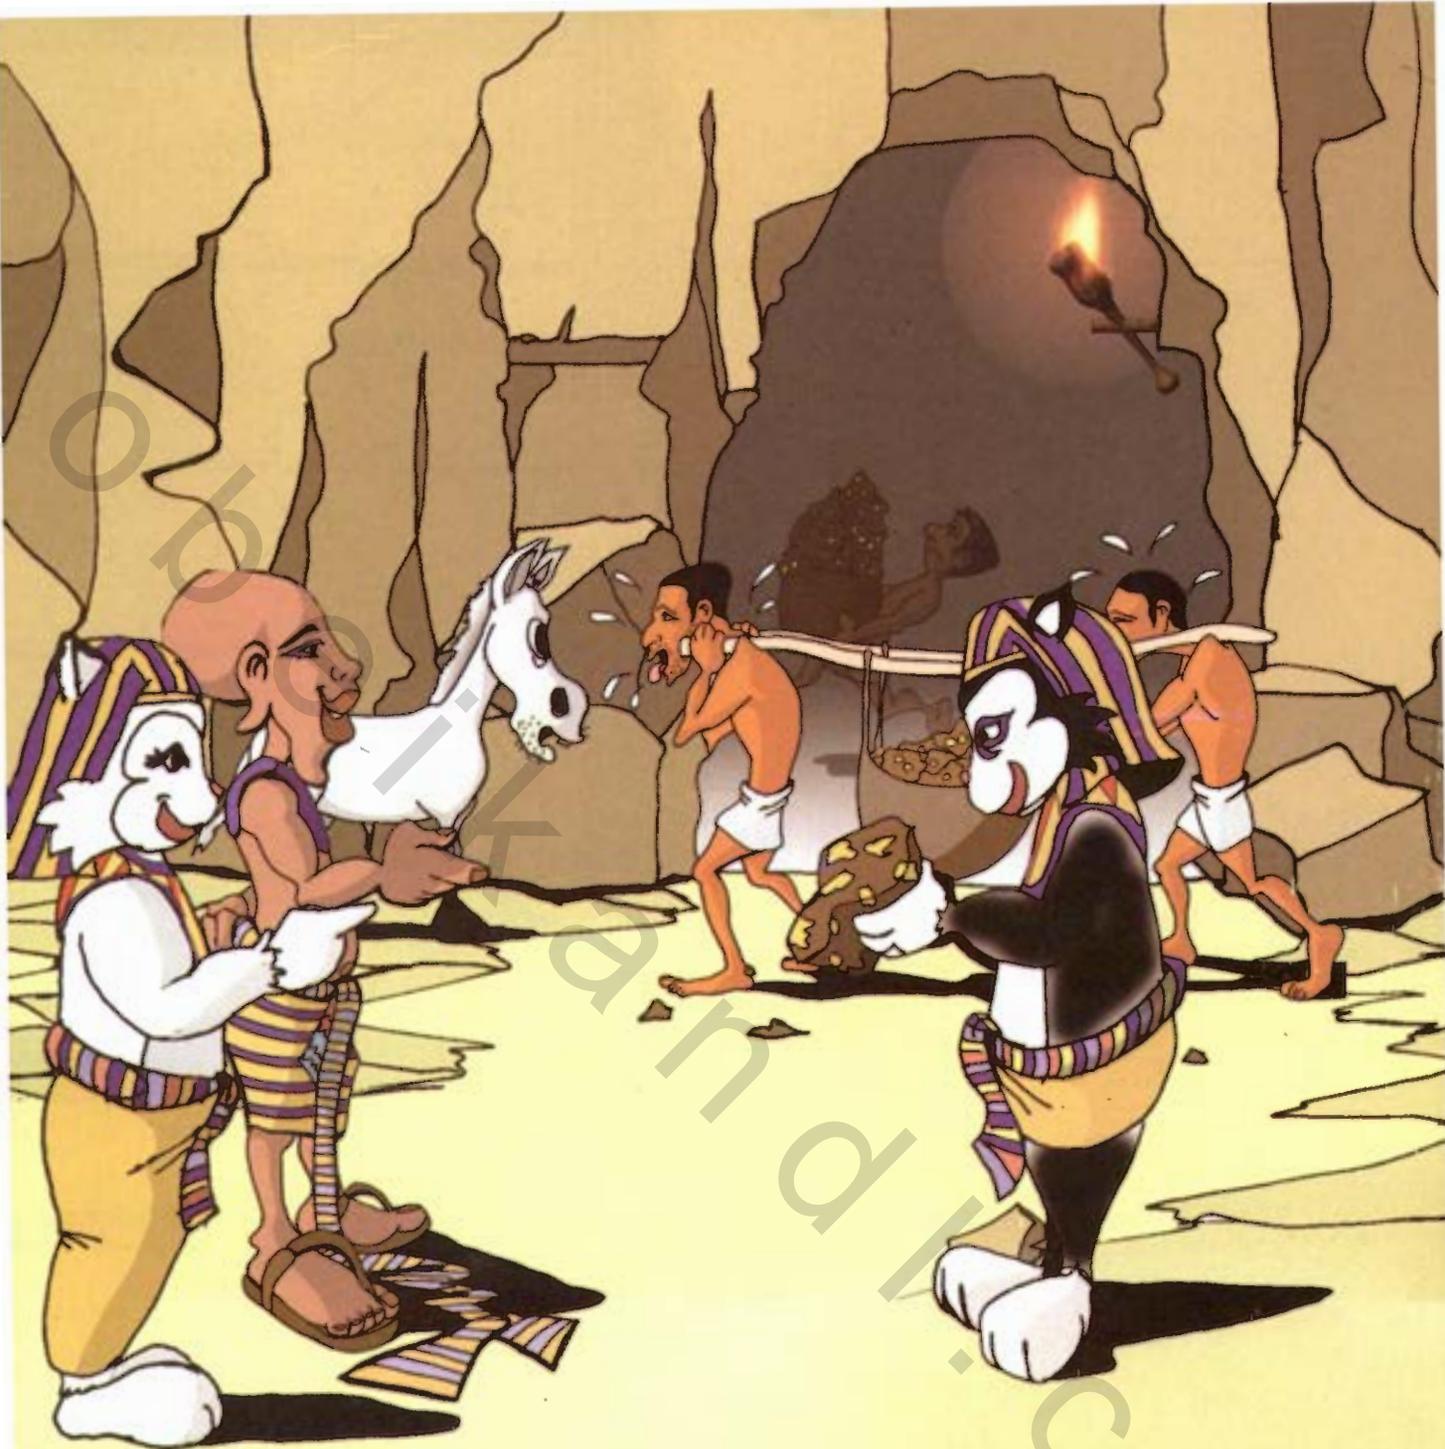

A mix of a Jackal and a wolf. Wrong doing, always falls in troubles and often corrected by the cats.

NuNu

Small boat made of papyrus stems, owned by Kemet and Miaow.
It is a time traveling boat. In few moments it goes from one time to another; from future to past to present.

The two good cats use it to chase Set.

Akhenaton: Hello Miaow, Welcome Kemet. Aren't these Mountains beautiful?

Miaow: Yes, sure they are beautiful and generous as well for what they donate to us.

Kemet (Inspecting a piece of stone in his hand): Yes this is a piece of raw gold that the clever Egyptian workers bring cut from these mines.

Akhenaton: The colour of gold after cutting, melting, hammering and shaping it, resembles the colour of the sun. That is why gold is most preferable to us.

At the workshop and exhibition hall

A worker to his colleague: Pour the melted gold slowly so that I can separate pure gold from the impurities.

Miaow (To the worker): This work needs accuracy, skill and patience.

A worker: We are very well respected and highly appreciated. That helps us to improve our skills and to progress through our inventions.

Akhenaton: This is a beautiful pure golden jar in the form of lotus flower, the symbol of Upper Egypt. This is an exquisite mask.

Kemet: We have lot of gold mines like the mine of "Hat-nub". Nubia is famous of mines of gold with high percentage of purity.

The Two Cats are bidding
the King and Queen farewell

Nefertiti: Good - Bye. We wish you a happy vacation. you deserve some rest after the great effort that you do, serving our country and our generous Egyptian people.

Miaow: We will try to benefit from this vacation. We can entertain ourselves and learn something new at the same time.

Nefertiti: Innocent fun is requested and recreational time helps one to regain his energy.

Akhenaton: Be sure to benefit of your holidays scientifically and cuturally.

Miaow: This is a precious advice and we are going to follow it. Let us go Kemet.

Kemet: We arrived to the 21st Century by means of our papyrus time boat “Nu - Nu”. Visiting the Egyptian Museum at Tahrir square in Cairo is a fantastic idea.

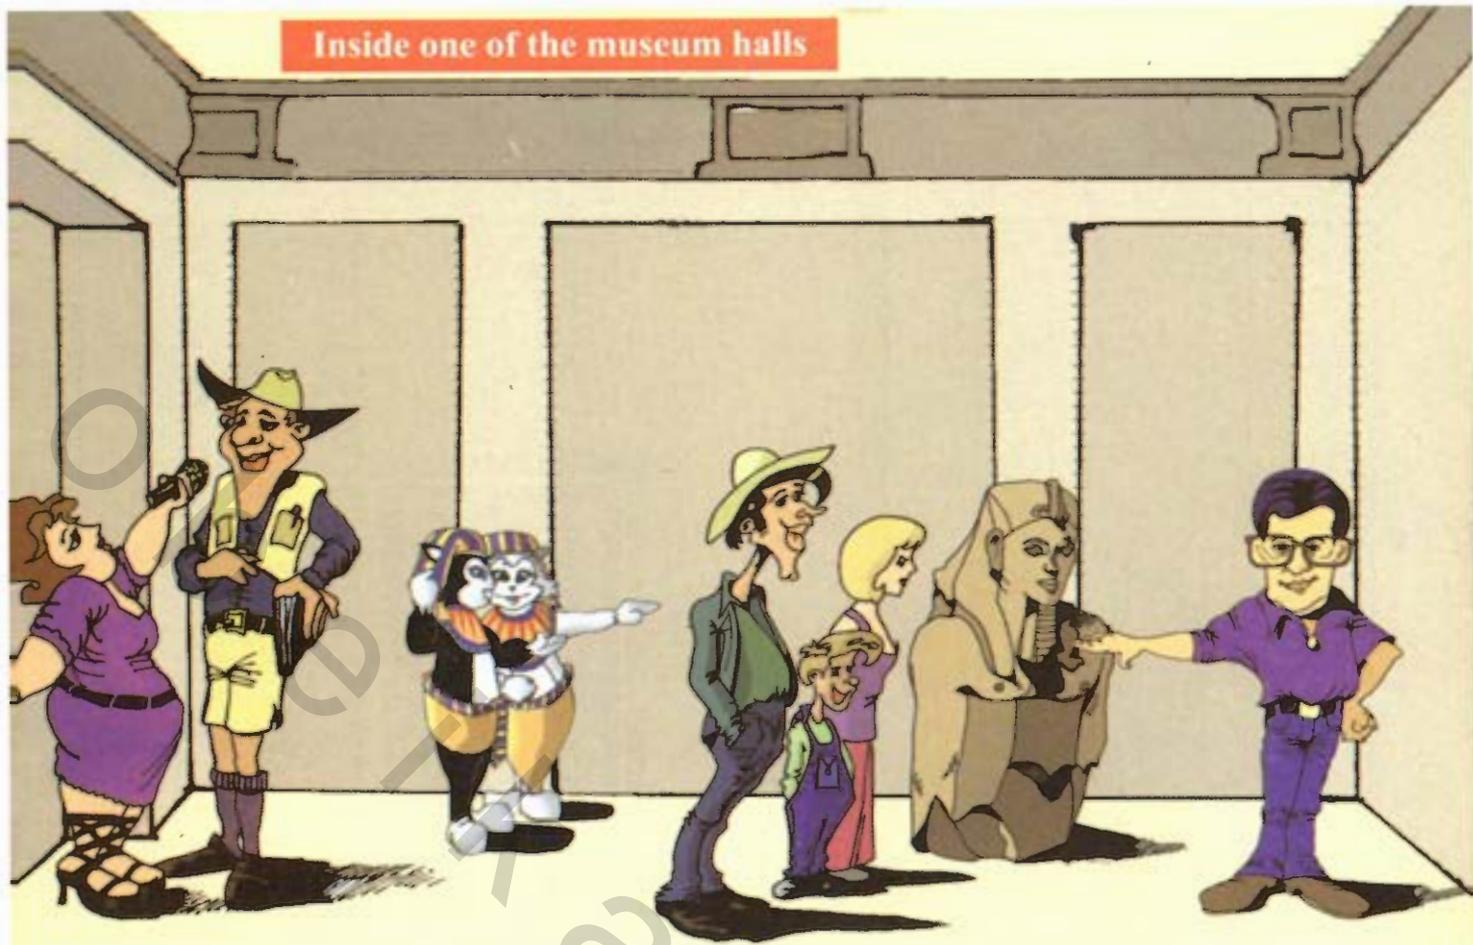

Miaow: Yes, especially when you know that it has more than 100,000 pieces of monuments dating back to various ancient pharaonic epochs and other epochs like the Greco-Roman.

Kemet: Did you buy entering tickets.

Miaow: Yes, of course, but we have to go through the security device first.

Kemet: Do you have any metal objects? If you have, please show it to the security guard.

Miaow: No, I do not have. Let us go inside, I am so interested in watching our historical treasures.

Kemet: Listen to the tour guide.

Miaow: He will explain now in details this statue and its history.

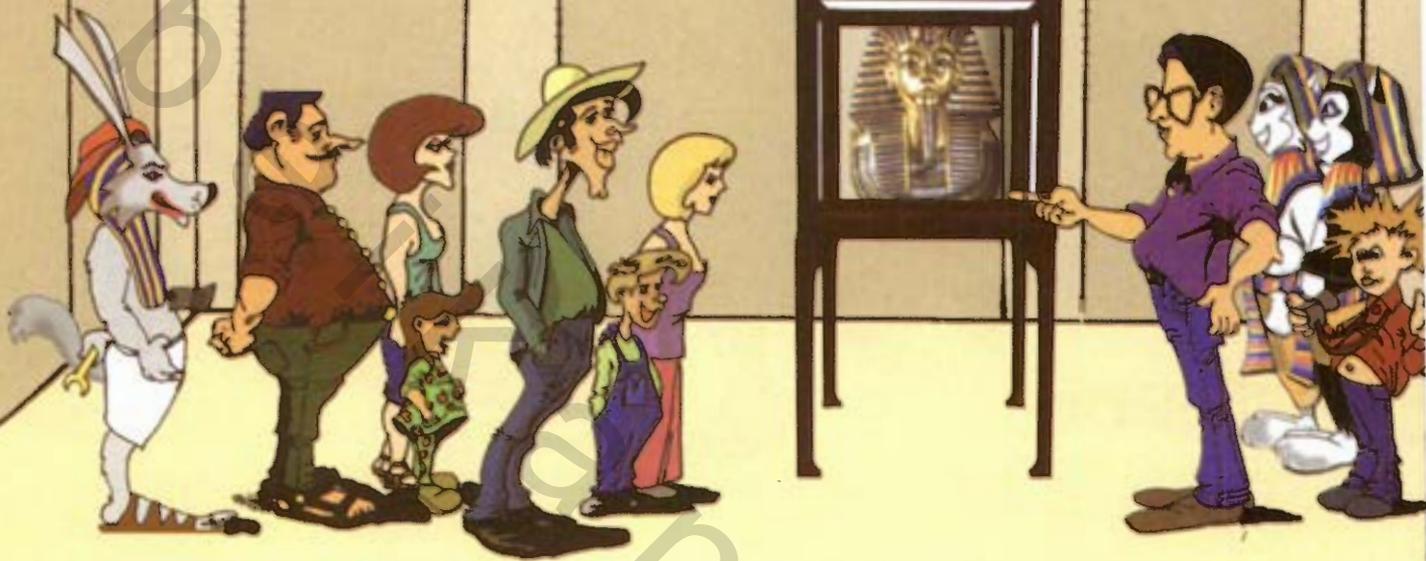

The Guide "Bebo": We are standing in front of a pink granite statue of the famous king Ramses the second.

A tourist: The Second!.. How many kings named Ramses ruled ancient Egypt?

The Guide "Bebo": There were eleven kings named Ramses. As for the stone that the statue is made of, it is called granite. The ancients used to quarry it in Aswan then sent it to temples, workshops and art schools.

A tourist: How many years did Ramses the second rule Egypt?

The Guide "Bebo": almost 67 years. He lived till his late eighties. He left us great monuments like the temples of Abo Sombol, the Ramasseum and others.

The Guide "Bebo": This is the golden mask of the young pharaoh Tutankhamon.

Kemet: Sir, why do you call Tut, the young pharaoh?

The Guide "Bebo": That is because he reigned Egypt when he was only nine years old, and he died almost at nineteen.

Miaow: This mask is a unique masterpiece

A tourist: I have never seen such a beauty anywhere in the world.

The Guide "Bebo": Please, everybody, kindly do not use the flash light because it is harmful to the ancient monuments.

Innermicrophone of the museum: Robbery alarm. Robbery alarm. All security guards. Calling all policemen. The Golden mask of "Tutankhamon" has been robbed. To all our visitors, please keep where you are.

The Guide "Bebo": Do not worry. Surely, the authorities has recorded the whole incident using the internal T.V. circuit. I assure you that the tourist police will sieze the criminals immediately, The police standard here is very high and respectable.

Kemet to Miaow: Are you thinking of what I am thinking?

Miaow: Yes. Perhaps the thief is Set.

Kemet: Let us search for him and tell the policemen about Set's story.

Kemet: Did you find set? He headed that way.

Miaow: I can not confirm exactly where he is, but, I have my doubts.

Kemet: What doubts?

Miaow: Look Kemet, this statue is for king Amonhotep the third and this one is for king Ramses II.

Kemet: (Interrupting) but the most important thing now is finding Set. Where did he hide?!

Miaow: Wait a second, look at this strange statue situated at the end of the room.

Kemet: What about it?

Miaow: Examine it carefully.

Kemet: It is wearing a golden mask similar to the one we saw with our tour guide.

Miaow: It is exactly the same one which was stolen a while ago.

Kemet: Let us inform the police.

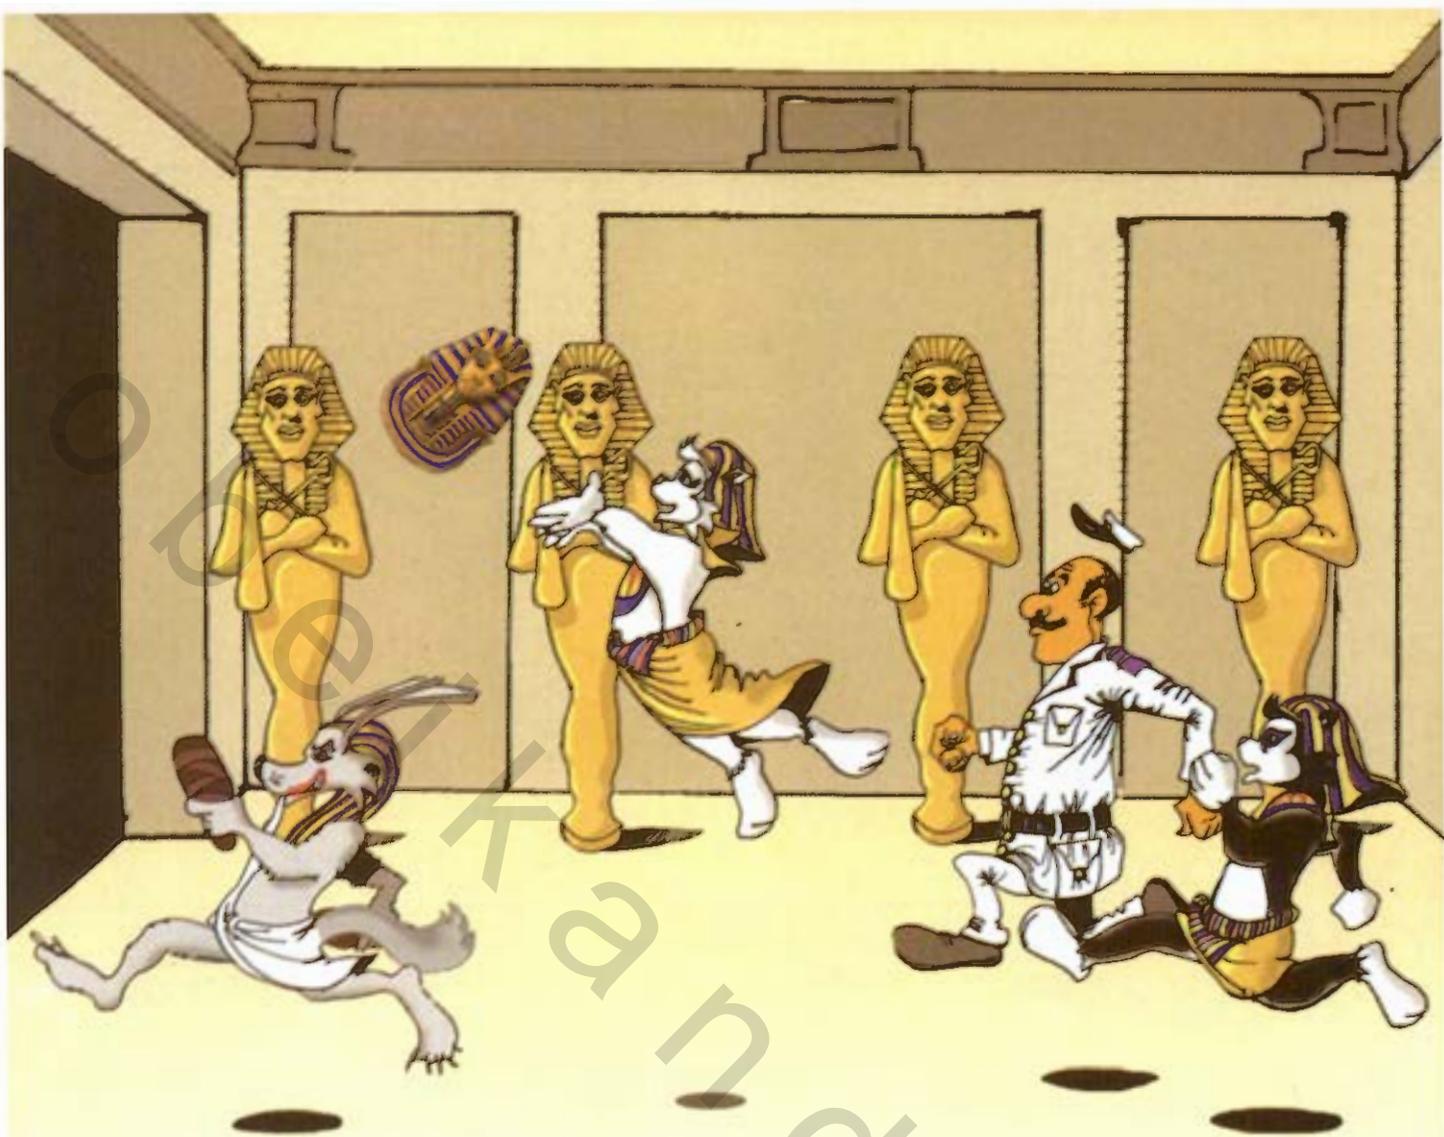

Miaow: Hey officer, the thief is trying to hide behind the golden mask.

The officer: You are right. This is the stolen mask.

Kemet: Having one look at the tail on the back of the statue, we will easily find out that it is none other than Set and his tail and not a statue.

Kemet: Look, Miaow, Set is getting rid of the golden mask. He is throwing it away. Try to catch it. I will, run after him. The policeman is chasing him as well.

Miaow: I will. (running fast)

Kemet: Hurry up Miaow.

Set: you will never be able to catch me this time. I am faster than you all.

Security guard: Set, it is better to surrender. There is no benefit in crime. Robbery is a crime that is punished by law

Set: No, I will succeed to escape. You will never catch me.

Security guard: I do not think so, Set.

The chase in the Egyptian museum garden

Set: Ha.. Ha.. Ha.. you will never.. OUCH.. (Set hits a pink granite obelisk and falls on the ground)

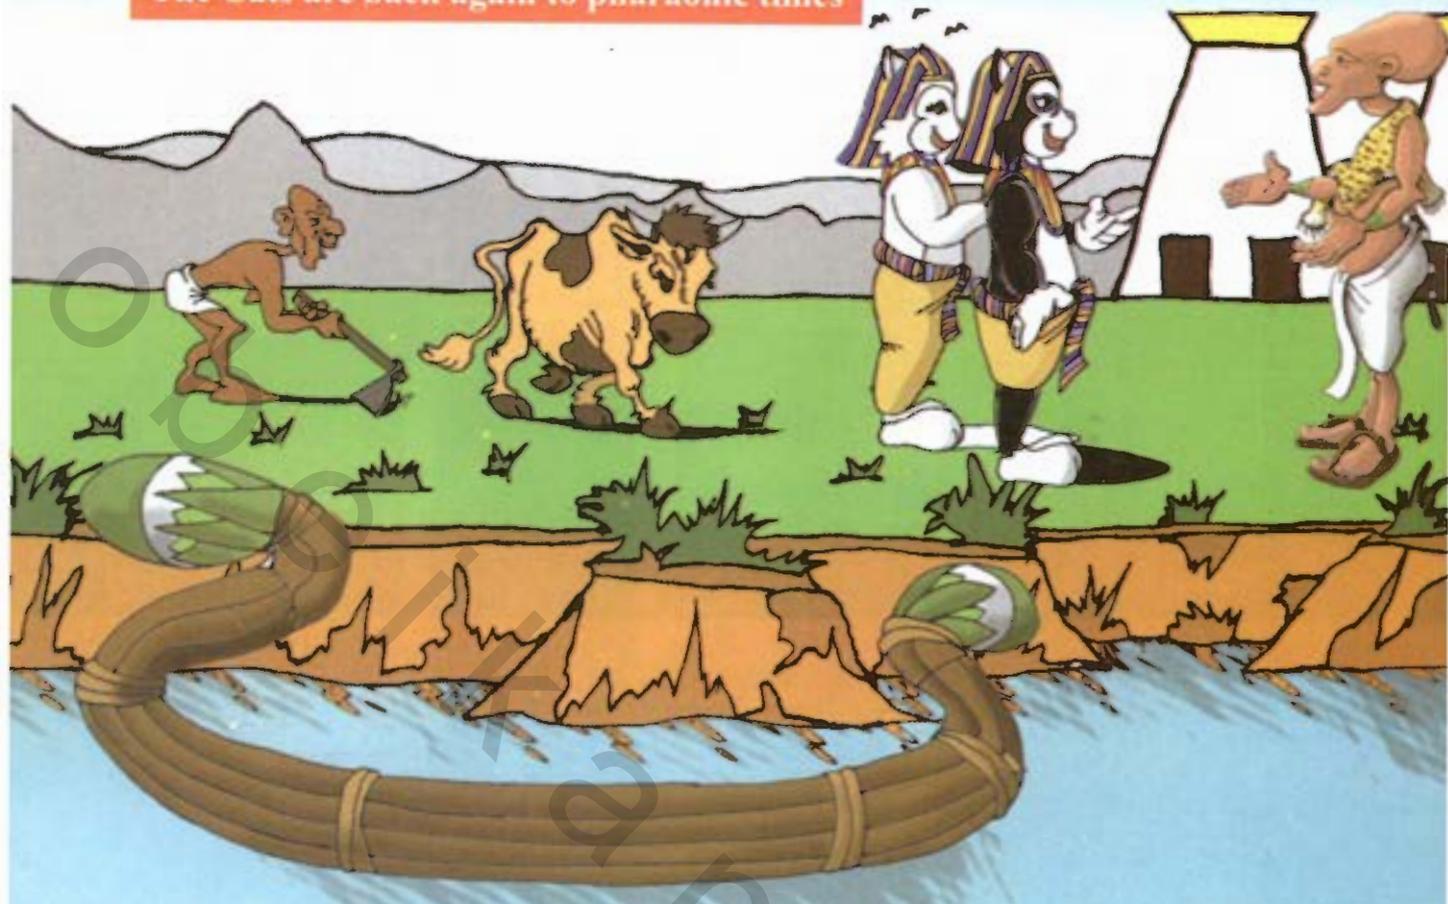

Kemmet: Miaow, deliver the mask to the security guards and follow me quickly. I will not let Set escape (Set is captured).

Miaow: (gives the mask to the policeman) Here it is, sir.

Security guard: I would like to express my thanks and gratitude to both of you.

Kemmet: what are you going to do with Set?

Security guard: He will be placed in the hands of justice and surely he will be punished for his wrong act, to be an example to all those who commit shameful deeds.

Mery-Ra: I hope you enjoyed your vacation. Did you spend a happy and comfortable vacation?

Kemet: Happy? Sure, but...

Miaow: (Smiling) Comfortable! I do not think so.

Mery -Ra: What? Did'nt you go to lie by the beach comfortably on the soft sand and drink orange juice?

Kemet and Miaow: (laughing) You can say, it was a working vacation. But as for the orange juice.. we had some!!
