I should like to express sincere thanks to

Alexander von Humboldt

who granted me several fellowships during which the author was able to visit the German libraries – in addition to my research work – and gets obscure and valuable reference. This publication "The Biological Control of Weeds" which is written for the first time in Arabic language was impossible to appear without funding aid of working visits from the Alexander von Humboldt Stiftung, Germany.

In preparing this publication, I was helped by some German colleagues who provided me with their working documents on parasitic weed control. Of these, Dr. Jurgen Kroschel and Dr. H. Betz, Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit (GfZ) GmbH. Also, with the help of German facilities during the working visits, it was easy to reach and contact with other outstanding scientists in Australia, New Zealand and U.S.A. Dr. Wendy Forono, Mr. Michael Julien, Dr. David Briese, Dr. Mc Fadyen Rachel, Dr. Tim Woodburn of CSIRO Entomology, Australia; Dr. Michael Day and Dr. Bill Palmer of Alan Fletcher Research Station, Sherwood, Australia; Dr. Paulin Syrett of New Zealand Pastoral Agriculture, Lincoln, New Zealand kindly provided published and unpublished data, brochures, slides and photos on the current knowledge of biological control of weeds other than parasitic weeds.

Finally, I acknowledge the indispensable aid of Dr. Wedad E. Khafagi, Plant Protection Institute, Sabahia, Alexandria, who gave useful comments on the text, very capable editorial assistance and page making and our "eyes" for proofreading; Miss. Noha Khamis, my postgraduate student for her valuable comments throughout the text and especially Mr. Abd El-Minem El-Emam, who were our "fingers" at the typewriter.
